

Western University
OF HEALTH SCIENCES

Western Diabetes Institute

Western Diabetes Institute's Center for Periodontal Health Presents the First International & Interprofessional 3-Day Symposium on Diabetes and Periodontal Disease

Monday, August 24, 2015 - "What is periodontal disease and its association with diabetes?" by Philip Preshaw, BDS, PhD, FDS, Professor of Periodontology, School of Dental Sciences and Institute of Cellular Medicine at Newcastle University, UK; "Pathophysiology of periodontitis in people with diabetes: the mechanisms of interplay between two common diseases" by Bradley Henson, DDS, PhD, Assistant Professor and Associate Dean for Research and Biomedical Sciences, WesternU College of Dental Medicine; and Diana Folmsbee, DDS, Assistant Professor, WesternU College of Dental Medicine

Tuesday, August 25, 2015 - "Periodontal management in people with diabetes: the UK and US situations" by Susan Bissett NIHR Clinical Research Fellow & Team Lead, Dental Clinical Research Facility, Newcastle University, UK; Heidi Davila, RDHAP, Center for Periodontal Health, Western Diabetes Institute, WesternU; and Jorge Oaxaca, DDS, Private Dental Practitioner, Seal Beach, CA

Wednesday, August 26, 2015 - "Implications for diabetes care: redesigning and scaling team-based care" by Andrew Pumerantz, DO, FACP, Professor of Internal Medicine, Founder and Executive Director, Western Diabetes Institute, WesternU

August 24-26, 2015
12:00-1:00pm

Health Education Center, Lecture Hall 2

Lunch provided